

Hurray, I Became a Student of IPB

<http://news.ipb.ac.id>

Posted by admin on 25 June 2013

Cheerful faces were radiated on 2,299 new students of Bogor Agricultural University (IPB) of Selection for State University (SNMPTN) line. One of them, Ika, the student of Department of Agribusiness, Faculty of Economic and Management, IPB, was very happy to be accepted at IPB. "I am so grateful to be accepted at IPB. From 15 students of SMAN 112 Jakarta who enroll to IPB of SNMPTN line, just me and my colleagues who are accepted," said Ika to the Integrated Information Services Committee of IPB.

According to Ika, one of the successes to be accepted by IPB was to place the correct strategy and to seek the information of public universities option. Before signing up to IPB, Ika dug up the information from various sources both seniors, internet, flyers and Public Relations of IPB. "I apply to the first choice strategy which is the favorite major, and the second choice which is the lack of devotees Hence, I manage to get into the Department of Agribusiness, IPB. Many of my colleagues are failed because of wrong strategies," she said recalling.

Various questions were delivered by the parents and new students to the Information Services committee, including about the Single Tuition (UKT) policy, the activities of new students when they entered to the dormitory and when the lecture began. (ris)